

Faculty of Applied Social Sciences and Law

The Faculty of Applied Social Sciences and Law (FASSL) is rooted in the first School of Social Work in the world, which was founded in 1899 in Amsterdam. As a result, Social Work is truly embedded in the city's society and traditions. The faculty offers students Bachelor's degrees, Master's degrees and Exchange programmes in the fields of social work, law, applied psychology and public administration. The faculty is based in central Amsterdam in the Netherlands.

The Faculty of Applied Social Sciences and Law is one of seven faculties at the Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences (AUAS), the largest university of applied sciences in the Netherlands.

Research expertise

Centre for Applied Research

The Centre for Applied Research on Social Sciences and Law conducts practice-driven research within our faculty that contributes to improvements and innovations in the professions of the social sciences and law. This research is conducted within 10 research groups, each with its own specialisation.

Centre of Expertise

From the Centre of Expertise Urban Governance and Social Innovation, professors, lecturers and researchers cooperate with partners outside of the AUAS: other knowledge institutions, companies and civil society organisations, government and citizens. This interdisciplinary Centre of Expertise pools expertise across three AUAS faculties: Applied Social Sciences and Law,

Business and Economics, and Technology. It seeks solutions to the complex challenges that arise in urban areas: poverty, neighbourhood safety, liveability, urban design and more.

Collaboration

Our faculty has close ties with organisations and institutions across the city of Amsterdam and beyond. There are many ways to collaborate with us. Motivated students, lecturers and researchers are eager to welcome guest lecturers to our programmes and ready to work on research assignments and internship posts for companies.

Contact

Would you like to collaborate with us or do you have questions? Our International Offices are the first point of contact for education-related questions in the English language. They can connect you with the right person at the AUAS.
