DIRECT OPEN ACCESS VIA THE AUAS OPEN ACCESS FUND

OPEN ACCESS PUBLISHING

The AUAS Open Access Fund reimburses the costs of publishing in peer reviewed journals. The journal must, however, be registered in the Directory of Open Access Journals. Agreements have been made with publishers Frontiers, PLOS, PeerJ, SpringerOpen and BioMed Central to ensure that AUAS employees can use the publisher's own deposit. Publishers who merely post an article about the open access publication are not covered by these agreements.

If you have any questions please contact the open access team via openaccess@hva.nl.

CONDITIONS

- The project does not have other parties involved who can reimburse the costs of publishing, such as SAE/RAAK, NOW, and EC.
- The journal must be registered in the Directory of Open Access journals (doaj.org).
- The author clearly writes 'Hogeschool van Amsterdam' or 'Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences' in the affiliation box.
- The author guarantees sustainable access to the work by submitting the open access publication to Pure.
- That there is sufficient funding.

OTHER OPEN ACCESS JOURNALS

For other journals in the Directory of Open Access Journals the author is responsible to file for an application with the AUAS Open Access Fund before submitting their manuscript. This requirement ensures that the author is not faced with unexpected expenses. If the fund is depleted the author is responsible to cover the costs of publishing themselves. Applications can be filed by sending an email to openaccess@hva.nl.
