

THE BOYS ARE MASTURBATING TOGETHER

Fourteen boys are taking part in an independence training programme for young people. At the residence where the young boys are staying, two educators are working the night shift. One of them has taken a boy with severe belly ache to the doctor. The other educator is on watch and hears a lot of laughter and racket coming from one of the boys' rooms. When he knocks on the door, nobody answers. Probably because nobody has heard him. He enters the room and sees that the boys are having a lot of fun: they are all masturbating together, whilst a porn movie is playing on the laptop.
