

SAVE THE DATES

INTERNATIONALISATION FOR LECTURERS

Are you interested in internationalising your teaching and classroom, online and/or live, and curious about how this is being done at other universities of applied sciences?

Then this course is for you!

WHEN: Monday mornings
(see dates below)
Webinars: 9.00-10.00
Workshops: 10.30-12.00

*It is possible to attend webinars only,
or webinar + workshops*

- 7 November 2022 - How internationalisation-ready is your programme?
Introduction to course. Mapping. Internationalised curriculum – what is it and why is it important?
- 21 November 2022 - How internationalisation-ready is your module?
Designing. Understanding how alignment can be achieved in teaching, learning, and assessment in the process of internationalising a module and its learning outcomes.
- 5 December 2022 - How internationalisation-ready are you?
Reflecting. Cultural perspectives and their influence on our teaching.
- 19 December 2022 - How internationalisation-ready is your classroom?
Pedagogy. Identifying strategies methods and tools that can be applied in the classroom.
- 9 January 2023 - How globally connected are you?
Design. Virtual or online collaboration – what is it and how can it be integrated in your module?
- 23 January 2023 - How international is your assessment?
Evaluating. Direct and indirect forms of assessing international and intercultural competences – challenges & opportunities.

To register for this course or for more information:

- Amsterdam UAS:
Eva Haug (e.m.haug@hva.nl)
- The Hague UAS:
Claudia Bulnes (c.bulnes@hhs.nl)
- Rotterdam UAS:
Jessica Shinnick (j.h.shinnick@hr.nl)

